

What is the Kentucky Office of Vocational Rehabilitation?

The mission of the Kentucky Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR) is to empower Kentuckians with disabilities to maximize independence and economic security. Through competitive, integrated employment, individuals with disabilities work alongside other employees without disabilities. They earn at least minimum wage and get the same workplace benefits and opportunities as other employees doing the same job.

Become an OVR approved vendor

To support our mission, OVR is searching for qualified vendors throughout the state to provide crucial services to Kentuckians with disabilities who choose employment, which creates a more inclusive workforce.

If you would like to become a vendor, please contact the Kentucky Office of Vocational Rehabilitation at (800) 372-7172.
